

Tim Daubenschütz

Bachelor of Science

EDUCATION

OCT, 2011 TILL FEB, 2015

Ulm University

Bachelor of Science: Media Informatics ("Durchschnittsnote": 1.9)

WORK EXPERIENCE

MAY 15, 2015 TILL AUG 31, 2018

Developer, Product Manager & VP of Engineering at BigchainDB GmbH:

BigchainDB is building scalable blockchain infrastructure.

Designed an intellectual property licensing protocol for blockchains (coalaip.org)

Designed and facilitated the day-to-day software development process

Created and maintained the company's internal and external roadmap

Implemented & designed various critical software components in JavaScript and Python

SEPT 1, 2018 TILL NOV 6, 2019

Freelance as Blockchain Developer:

Research & Development at the intersection of blockchain and usability.

Built a crypto-currency wallet to register movie rights on Plasma

Built a crypto-currency wallet for Plasma and shipped it to production: peep.cash

Built a crypto-currency game running on Plasma and shipped it to production. It was played at two conferences in Berlin (ccc19 and EthBerlinZwei)

Was appointed several roles in LeapDAO's Holacracy process and successfully proposed several governance policies

VOLUNTEERING

SEPT 1, 2018 TILL MAR 1, 2019

Taught two lessons on "How to build your own crypto token" to refugees as part of ReDi School's blockchain & cryptocurrency course.

LANGUAGES

German

Native Speaker

English

Fluent (IELTS score: 8/9)

SKILLS

Focus: Distributed systems (mainly blockchains) with special focus towards scalability and usability

Programming languages: JavaScript full-stack (7 years of professional usage), Python (2 years of professional usage), SQL and NOSQL

INTERESTS

Professional: Open Source, Decentralization, Usability, Governance

Personal: Biking, Running, Music & Arts, "Hacking" as part of Social Distortion Protocol